

WORKS //
HUGO BEHEREGARAY

Since leaving arts school in 2017, I have, through my travels between China and Senegal, sought to produce a so-called contextual art.

This concept conceptualized by Paul Ardenne brings together, at the same time, the analysis of the different artistic and social practices, and the inscription within a production in the form of “ by and for ” the context in question. That's how I sought out the attention of a local but large audience. Through colors out of the tube and expressions such as COOL or LOOK that call to the familiarity and questioning of these words.

This inscription in context is probably a pretext to generate the meeting. My attraction for the show, the theatre, and the confusion it can generate in the “ real ” (as would do Tino Seghal for example), leads me today to make my work exist in the public space.

The DE HUT project (“ the hut ” in Dutch) is an example. Winner of the residency at the art center of the Abbey of Maubuisson, I proposed to build a meeting space in the garden of the Abbey with the scraps of the various exhibitions that had hosted the art center. Like an archaeology of the present, the falls became a new assembly of objects symbolizing the contemporary activity of this place steeped in history. I invited passers to stop by and leave there a trace.

DE DOZEN VAN DE HUT (“ the hut's boxes ” in Dutch) is the continuation and transformation of this construction into 64 boxes containing the pieces of the hut as a last memory with which it is possible to make a small hut at home.

In Saint-Denis, during the summer of 2020, I proposed to the inhabitants of the Jacques Duclos neighborhood, to create two mascots representing the neighborhood to parade in the Dionysian city. The two personalities chosen to represent the neighborhood are two rappers Lascaar and Alka and together we made these giant portraits.

My last TADAM project started from there; I made a giant self-portrait as well as a giant portrait of my friend David Bekic, with the aim of strolling around the city without the need for additional staging. I seek to create a funny strangeness by using a pattern inspired from the real (our faces) to escape it somehow.

In parallel with these so-called contextual projects, I develop a graphic universe inspired by my daily life within a collective of artists who open empty buildings in Paris.

Inspired by comic strips with a clear line and free figuration, I seek to create stories without words from what I experience and see.

The sculpture Hegoak is inspired from a Basque song of the same name which translation is :

*If I cut her wings
She would have been mine
She would not have gone
However,
She would not have been a bird anymore
And I, loved that bird*

BIEN OUÉJ !

de Hugo Béhérégaray

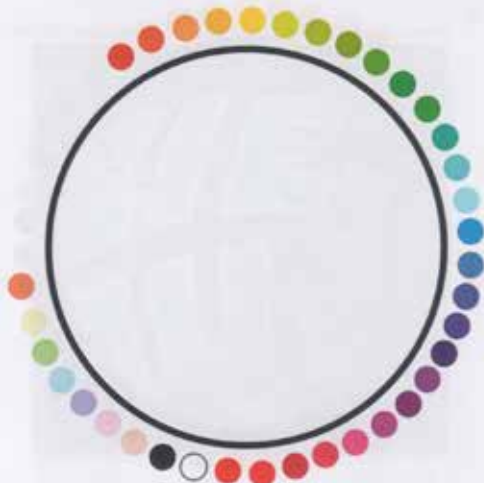

Jeu de piste, douze ballons peints

Bien Ouéj ! est un jeu de piste dont le but est la découverte de douze ballons peints. À toi d'explorer le parc pour les retrouver.

Indique sur le plan l'emplacement des douze ballons «BIEN OUÉJ !» dissimulés autour de l'abbaye de Maubuisson. Pour chaque ballon, note tes observations sur la feuille.

Tu peux également documenter tes découvertes en les photographiant.

Une récompense t'attend à l'accueil de l'abbaye si tu réussis à retrouver tous les ballons !

Invente-lui un nom : .....

Reproduis les motifs du ballon puis entoure ses couleurs sur le nuancier.

Lorsque tu regardes le ballon, que vois-tu d'autre dans ton champ de vision ? .....

Qu'entends-tu ? .....
